

JCPS & the New TARC Network

coming August 2, 2026

What is the New TARC Network?

The New TARC Network is coming on Sunday, August 2, 2026. It will bring major changes for most TARC riders with new routes, route numbers, schedules, and bus stops. TARC is here to help you navigate the changes.

The New TARC Network will provide faster, more reliable bus service for most TARC riders with more frequent service on major corridors across the city. Buses will be running every 15 minutes all day on Broadway, Bardstown, Preston, 4th Street, Dixie Highway, and Market Street, and a new Downtown Transfer Center will make it easier to connect between routes.

What does the New TARC Network mean for JCPS?

All JCPS students and families who rely on TARC should visit the New TARC Network website to learn how the changes will affect their travel. The new network improves or maintains service to most JCPS high schools and all 10 JCPS magnet high schools. As a result of service reductions in low ridership areas, the following high schools will no longer have a TARC route within 1/2 mile of their campus for the 2026-2027 school year:

- Doss High School
- Eastern High School
- Fern Creek High School
- Moore High School
- Southern High School

For a full list of TARC routes serving JCPS middle and high schools, please see the back page of this flyer.

Where can I get more information about changes coming with the new network?

Visit ridetarc.org/new or scan the QR code below to get all the information you need to prepare for the launch of the new network; there you'll find information on the new signs, bus stop changes, a comparative trip planner to see how the trip you take today will change with the new network, and more!

WHY is TARC changing?

- 1 Existing local and state dollars for transit are not enough to pay for current levels of service so TARC has had to find ways to be more efficient while still meeting the needs of the Louisville community.
- 2 In June of 2024 TARC began working directly with the community to design an updated transit network that aligns with Louisville's priorities and needs while reflecting the agency's available funding. TARC presented options and gathered feedback from over 300 community meetings, and workshops; the New TARC Network is the result of that process.
- 3 Although the New TARC Network requires less funding, it will create a bus network that is more useful and dependable for many residents across the Louisville region. It includes simpler routes, more frequent 15-minute service on major corridors, and a new Downtown Transfer Center to make transfers easier and more convenient.
